

Chuck FYI

Airlift for Space Bank

A SIKORSKY HELICOPTER, called a Skycrane, lowers a modified bank branch unit into place in a parking area of the Woodbridge (N.J.) Shopping Center. The structure, owned by the City Federal Savings & Loan Association, is a factory-built spheroid, 26 feet in diameter, 12 feet high, containing 5,000 cubic feet.

AP Wirephoto

