Dear Uke:

Although the final outcome of your visit to the United States is not known as yet, and will not be until Leonard Fruchter makes payment, it appears that we are shut out of the picture. This, of course, has come about as a result of the wires sent directly by Helsinki.

As you will recall, we had agreed to pay legal fees if your company and our company were working in accord toward a mutually favorable decision. The wire from Finland, of course, removed all areas of accord, putting you on Fruchter's team, thus removing our obligation to pay the fees for the Philadelphia lawyer.

The above, of course, is the least of our problems. It would appear that without a product to sell, ours is not a viable business and should not, therefore, continue to operate. We do not blame you personally, Uke, for this state of affairs.

If, however, in the next two weeks, we are given a 30 day option on the proposition of your new house, which you have just patented, we might be willing to move ahead with you on it. We will look forward to seeing the design and hope that you will accompany it with a business proposition for us.

We are a good company and one that has always wanted to cooperate with both Leonard Fruchter and you. Having found the former impossible to do, I hope there will be a future for your company and ours to do business.

Uke, it was most enjoyable being with you while you were here, and we'll expect to hear from you this week if Leonard defaults on his payment to you. We stand ready to take over.

Best regards,

Charles W. Cleworth
President
